Financial Coach and Advocate, International Bestselling Author and Podcast Host

Victoria "Vicky" Lowell is a leading financial advocate and coach, international bestselling author and the founder of Empowered Worth, a financial-education platform that empowers women to become active participants in their own financial future and well-being.

In late 2018, after years of frustration working at a major Wall Street firm, she left to follow her passion to help women assert themselves fiscally. She is certified as a Divorce Financial Analyst and College Financial Consultant. She is an expert in helping empower women financially with specializations in divorce financials, college funding and loan repayment planning.

She is the author of the international bestseller, "Empower your Worth: A Woman's Guide to Increasing Self-Worth and Net Worth," a bestseller in both English and Spanish. The book was a finalist in 2020 for the Canadian Book Club Awards. She has been featured on various TV shows, blogs and websites. In addition, she has been an expert presenter on various panels for women's groups and conferences, as well as hosting her own podcast, Empowered Worth: Worthy Wisdom for Women, which has ranked in the Top 100 podcast on Apple Podcasts in Australia and Canada.
